

Last Dollar Scholarship Application Guide for Returning Applicants

2019 Cycle

Thank you for returning to the Goodwin Meissner Family Foundation (GMFF) scholarship. We call it the Last Dollar Scholarship because it provides those “last dollars” you’ll need to close the gap between the funds you’ve been able to raise and the total cost of attendance (TCA) at your chosen university. Total cost of attendance, or TCA, is what the financial aid office at your university estimates it costs to attend their school including tuition, fees, living expenses, etc. Sources of funding should include one or more of the following: savings, a Pell Grant, low-interest loans, work study, part-time work off campus or other scholarships and grants. We look for students who have made a significant effort in trying to address the TCA, and consider small, low-interest loans an important component of that effort.

In order to re-apply, the minimum requirements are that you:

1. remain a federal Pell Grant recipient (as determined by your 2019/2020 FASFA)
2. be willing to commit to a minimum of eight (8) hours per semester of volunteer work, and
3. be a student in good standing at your school with no disciplinary and/or academic citations

Application Checklist:

1. Completed online scholarship application
2. Confirmation of your Pell Grant Eligibility from the FASFA application process in .pdf format, see page 4 for an example.
3. A transcript of grades for the applicant’s most recently completed coursework. This may include high school transcripts, GED score report or any postsecondary transcripts. And, this might also be only your first semester grades.

Following are the steps required in our process:

Applications are due by midnight EST on March 1st, 2019**

1. Complete the online application (<http://www.gmff.foundation/application/>) and submit by midnight EST on March 1st, 2019. GMFF accepts only applications submitted through our online application.
2. You will be notified by March 15th of your status via email
3. If you receive funds from GMFF, we will ask that you have the financial aid office of your university complete a financial aid release statement. This form confirms the dollars you've been able to raise, the TCA and the gap that you need to address. ALTERNATIVELY, you can provide a screenshot of your university account. We require this form by June 15th
4. Once we receive your financial aid release form, GMFF will notify you of the scholarship amount and mail a check for first semester to your university. The second semester payment will be mailed when we've confirmed that you remain a student in good standing and have completed 8 hours of community service - usually by mid-December.

5. How do you apply for the Last Dollar Scholarship?

Applications are due by midnight EST on March 1, 2019**

Step 1: Complete the online application for RETURNING students (<http://www.gmff.foundation/application/>) and submit by midnight EST on March 1, 2019.

Last Dollar Scholarship Application

Thank you for your interest in the Goodwin Meissner Family Foundation (GMFF) scholarship. We call it the Last Dollar Scholarship because it provides those "last dollars" you'll need to close the gap between the funds you've been able to raise and the total cost of attendance at your chosen university.

Total cost of attendance, or TCA, is what the financial aid office at your university estimates it costs to attend their school including tuition, fees, living expenses, etc.

The money you've been able to raise should address some of the TCA, but in most cases will not cover it all. Sources of funding you might have raised should include one or more of the following: savings, a Pell Grant, low-interest loans, work study, part-time work off campus or other scholarships and grants.

In addition to minimum requirements, GMFF gives preference to participants with our partners' programs. The minimum requirements to apply are that you:

1) qualify for a federal Pell Grant using the Free Application for Federal Student Aid

Comments About Your Information

Learn about federal tax benefits for education, including the American Opportunity Tax Credit (AOTC).

Based on the information we have on record for you, your EFC is 000000. You may be eligible to receive a Federal Pell Grant and other federal student aid. Your school will use your EFC to determine your financial aid eligibility for federal grants, loans, and work-study, and possible funding from your state and school.

There is a limit to the total amount of Federal Pell Grants that a student may receive, which is the equivalent of 6 school years. Once a total amount of Pell Grant eligibility has been received, a student can no longer receive Pell Grant aid.
